Spring Creek career project

SPRING CREEK — Juniors at Spring Creek High School are looking beyond graduation.

Recently, SCHS held its 16th annual Junior Project Interview Day where a wide array of adults from the community volunteered their time and expertise to speak with 184 students about a variety of careers that the students researched.

Each student was interviewed by a professional in the field, and asked about his or her career goals, preparation and knowledge of qualifications for the job.

Students were expected to provide a resume, dress professionally, and communicate appropriately.

“We have been extremely fortunate to have people from the business community who will donate their time and advice to help prepare our students for life after high school,” said English teacher Loretta Reed.

Many of the interviewers return year after year and are impressed by the preparation and improvement of the students.

Teachers involved in the project include LaShawn Nagel, Maureen Dempsey, Laura Eudey, Loretta Reed and Katie Pongrekun.
