Gibbons reappoints Myers to NCED

ELKO - Gov. Jim Gibbons announced Tuesday he has reappointed Elko County Commission Chairman Charlie Myers to the Nevada Commission on Economic Development.

The governor appointed Myers last fall to fill a vacancy on the board, and the reappointment is for a four-year term.

"I think it is good for rural Nevada," Myers said Tuesday of his appointment to continue to give this area of the state representation. "I am very appreciative the governor reappointed me."

Myers is in his second term as a county commissioner and is running for re-election in November. He also is chairman of the Elko County Republican Party.

He earlier spent eight years on the Elko City Council.

Gibbons also announced he appointed Anthony Dazzio to the Nevada Commission on Economic Development. He is senior vice president of business development and government affairs for the Burke Construction Group in Las Vegas.
