

Request for Proposals

Northeastern Nevada Regional Development Authority Comprehensive Economic Assessment

PROJECT INTRODUCTION

This request for proposals (RFP) is intended to solicit qualified proposals to achieve the goals and tasks which have been approved by the Northeastern Nevada Regional Development Authority (NNRDA) Board of Directors, and the Governor's Office of Economic Development (GOED).

NNRDA is seeking a well-qualified economic development firm or team to perform a comprehensive economic assessment and strategic plan. The primary objectives of this plan will be to improve and enhance the economic resiliency and sustainability of the counties and cities within the NNRDA region. The project is scheduled to begin in April of 2018.

PROJECT BACKGROUND

NNRDA represents the counties of Elko, Eureka, Humboldt, Lander, and White Pine, as well as the cities of Carlin, Elko, Ely, Wells, West Wendover, and Winnemucca. NNRDA maintains the largest footprint of all Nevada's development authorities; encompassing nearly half of Nevada's total landmass. The combined population of NNRDA's five counties is nearly 88,000.

Northeastern Nevada has the highest concentration of precious metal mines in the state, making Nevada the fourth largest producer of gold in the world. Although mining is the primary economic engine within the region, ranching and tourism have maintained a significant role in the local economy for decades.

The purpose of this RFP is to explore, identify, and determine the feasibility of economic opportunity that falls outside of the mining industry. To accomplish this we must identify areas that build economic resilience, broaden industrial diversification, and create jobs. Clear and prioritized actions aimed at creating a more robust and diverse economy must be the emphasis of the strategic plan.

ADMINISTRATION

Sheldon Mudd, Executive Director of NNRDA, will act as the administrator for this project.

A. SCOPE OF WORK

The selected firm will perform an economic assessment, develop a market analysis, and create a detailed plan of action. The action plan will include concrete and measurable steps to build economic resilience, industry diversification, job creation and training, and reemployment. This action plan will be showcased in a broader economic and workforce development strategy. This action plan is not intended to be a traditional broad view plan created primarily from facilitated community input. The client communities are seeking in-depth, data driven assessments that account for the distinct differences of the participating communities. The action plan will illuminate clear and prioritized steps aimed at creating a more robust and diverse economy. The action plan will also strengthen and integrate existing plans and strategies developed by the client communities as they apply to current needs. The action plan will include local and regional components. The regional components for all community assessments will integrate to form the foundation for a regional plan.

This scope of work includes three phases described below for each of the participating counties and cities in the region. The first project will include two communities, and we will continue to apply for funding to complete plans for each community.

Phase 1: Economic Assessment

NNRDA will procure for a consultant to complete an economic assessment for each community which evaluates existing economic and demographic trends within those communities.

With project stakeholder involvement, the consultant will identify economic resources, workforce development, and workforce pipelines and support.

The consultant will conduct research using available business reports including, but not limited to the following.

- Prior strategic plans
- Community assessments
- Relatively recent local government reports

The consultant will recommend a framework for an economic assessment as part of their proposal. The consultant will analyze information on industry cluster composition (primary and support industries), demographics and wage rates, occupational and employment projections, skill sets and education, micro-clusters and regional economic linkages. This phase should include input from project stakeholders, major employers, and targeted public sectors.

This information will provide a map of existing assets, as we plan for our immediate and long term future economic strategy, designed around the specific needs and strengths of our communities.

This economic assessment should answer the following questions.

- What methodology would be used to ensure the validity of data collection and interpretation?
- What are the most important issues and ideas identified by stakeholders?
- What are the strengths and weaknesses of the current businesses within the community?
- What are the most important assets and economic clusters?
- What does the data indicate are the most significant economic trends, both positive and negative?
- What does the data suggest about the current state of the community's economy?
- What are the main focus areas to improve the current state of the community's economy?

Phase 2: Market Analysis

The consultant, based on the economic assessment in Phase 1, will evaluate market data and conduct appropriate market analysis to determine opportunities for expanding and/or adding new economic opportunities to northeastern Nevada. The consultant will review industry and occupational growth projections for the region's clusters (micro-clusters). This analysis should compare benchmarking and reference standards.

Specific questions to answer in this phase include the following.

- What current or emerging economic clusters exist?
- Which existing or potentially new economic clusters have the greatest potential for expansion and why?
- What opportunities exist to improve economic prosperity and resiliency that will have the most enduring positive impacts?
- What broad areas of economic development have the most potential, i.e. energy, tourism, expanding entrepreneurial capacity, agriculture, home-based business, or niche industry?
- What are the competitive advantages for northeastern Nevada's economy?

Phase 3: Final Report with Recommendations and Action Plan

The consultant will develop a written report that details an action plan using information from phases 1 and 2. The plan should establish priorities based on economic impact in the region, job creation, and long-term sustainability. The action plan should identify specific implementation steps, implementation funding sources, and designated implementers. Specific and strategic recommendations are paramount in the development and presentation of the action plan. Specific questions to answer in this phase include the following.

- How will this diversify the economy beyond the region's reliance upon the mining and ranching industries?
- How will this plan develop achievable goals?
- How should these actions be prioritized, and what organizational alignment is needed for their implementation?
- In what specific areas will the plan provide a range of workforce services?
- What broad areas of economic development have the most potential?
- Based on the data and conclusions of the report, what is an effective branding concept that will best present the region, and differentiate the region to critical markets and customers?
- What specific actions can create new and significant synergy with existing economic resources and clusters?

- Are there new partnerships that should be developed to implement recommended strategies?
- Where should public and private partners concentrate human and financial capital for the greatest return on investment?
- What strategies will advance priority objectives?
- What capacity needs to be developed, and where, specifically, resources can be found to successfully implement proposed recommendations.
- What is our current business climate, and what is required to ensure future economic stability?
- How does the current focus and development efforts of a community play a role in the plan?
- What specific high leverage actions should be considered to create an economic resurgence and sustained resiliency?

Phase 3 will include a draft report, with a 30-day review period, for NNRDA and other stakeholders to work with the consultant on the newly developed action plan.

The consultant will provide a recommended methodology to monitor plan implementation efficacy, and economic development within the communities. NNRDA and other stakeholders will monitor and measure the implementation effectiveness based on the recommended methodology.

5. The consultant shall in addition, in the amounts required under the above, obtain protective Liability Insurance issued to and covering the liability for damages imposed by law upon NNRDA with respect to all operations under the Agreement by the consultant or his subcontractors.

COMPREHENSIVE RISK POLICY OPTION: In lieu of the several policies specified for consultant's Liability Insurance, a comprehensive liability and property damage insurance policy inclusive of all the insurance's and requirements hereinafter set forth, with an umbrella covering of $1,000,000, subject to the approval of NNRDA, will be permissible.

SUBCONTRACTOR'S INSURANCE: Before permitting any of his subcontractors to perform any work under this contract, consultant shall either (1) require each of his subcontractors to procure and maintain, during the life of his subcontracts, Subcontractor's Public Liability and Property Damage Insurance of the types and in amounts as may be applicable to his work, which types and amounts shall be subject to the approval of NNRDA, or (2) insure the activities of his subcontractors in his own policy.

CERTIFICATES OF INSURANCE: Certificates of Insurance acceptable to NNRDA shall be filed with NNRDA before commencement of the work. These Certificates shall contain a provision that coverages afforded under the policies will not be cancelled until at least thirty (30) days' written notice has been given NNRDA. Consultant shall not permit any of his subcontractors to start work until all required insurance has been obtained and certificates with the proper endorsements have been filed with the consultant.

Failure of the consultant to comply with the foregoing insurance requirements shall in no way waive NNRDA's rights hereunder.

Consultant further agrees that all such policies shall be endorsed to name NNRDA, its Affiliates, Project Manager, Representatives and Employees as additional insureds and such insurance shall be by insurers and for policy limits acceptable to NNRDA.

OWNER'S LIABILITY INSURANCE: NNRDA, at its option, may purchase and maintain such liability insurance as will protect NNRDA against claims which may arise from operations under this Contract. Purchasing and maintaining such insurance, however, will not relieve the consultant from purchasing and maintaining the insurance herein before specified.
